A high-angle photograph of an outdoor dining area on a wooden deck. The deck is made of light-colored wooden planks. There are two square tables with white, perforated metal tops and four legs. Each table is surrounded by four white plastic chairs with a similar perforated design and a central cutout in the seat. To the left of the tables is a lush green bush with small white flowers. A black pot with a plant is also visible near the bush. The overall scene is bright and modern.
